GRADING – STUDENT-INITIATED COURSE WITHDRAWAL

Student Withdrawal from Courses

Secondary Schools

A student may withdraw from a course during the first five school days of the course without penalty. In a year-long course, a student may withdraw during the first five school days of the course in the first semester or the first five school days of the course in the second semester without penalty.

After the fifth school day, when records are finalized, a student will receive WP (Withdraw Passing) if passing the course at the time of withdrawal or WF (Withdraw Failing) if failing the course at the time of withdrawal. After the 20th school day of a course, a student will not be allowed to withdraw without receiving a letter grade of WF (Withdraw Failing). The letter grade of WF (Withdraw Failing) will be calculated into the student's grade-point average as an F with the value of zero points.

If a student withdraws from a course for reasons beyond the control of the student, such as illness, the student may withdraw without penalty.
